Allow your home inspection to go a little smoother

Another tip for our great agents: Have you ever been at a home inspection and had an issue because the attic access was blocked by hats, sweater, old boxes and that Monopoly Game that hasn't been used in 15 years? Home Inspectors usually don't want to move personal items for obvious reasons (all the Monopoly hotels and houses fall onto the floor). So, last minute either the agent or the seller have to deal with moving stuff out of the closet. I've seen sellers get a little bent out of shape when I have to ask them to move stuff.

Why not tell your seller upfront so that things can go a little smoother at the inspection?
